Three different proposals were drafted by Abraham Lincoln, and then by the Radical Republicans. When the war ended, the first proposal came to a Southern state that Reconstruction would be to come back into the Union. However, that any Confederate would military leaders, however, and

The Reconstruction Amendments

Between 1865 and 1870, three Amendments to the Constitution were ratified, which would become known as the Reconstruction Amendments. Numerically, they are the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments, and had major ramifications for the country as well as newly freed slaves. Much of the legislation that came after 1865 is credited to the work of the Radical Republicans, who favored abolition and did not feel to compromise on ending slavery. Despite Congressional support, there were many Southerners who were not in favor of these amendments, and they seemed to increase the tensions that had begun right before the Civil War.

The 13th Amendment passed in Congress on January 31, 1865, a few months before President Lincoln was assassinated. It was not formally ratified until December 6 of that year. The 13th Amendment is remembered as the one which formally ended slavery in the United States.

THE RECONSTRUCTION AMENDMENTS

Remember: The Reconstruction Amendments are the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. They were adopted between 1865 and 1870. We say "adopted" because following their ratification, they were approved by both the state legislatures and the U.S. Congress.
