Abstract

This study examined Generation Y's psychological addiction to social media with specific regard to Facebook, MySpace, Twitter and LinkedIn. The addiction was interpreted using Griffiths' six components that determine behavioral addiction: salience, mood modification, tolerance, withdrawal, conflict and relapse. The purpose of this study was to determine if Generation Y was in fact addicted to social media because of their need to maintain relationships with their peers. The results indicated that this sample of Generation Y suffers from three components, tolerance, salience and relapse. They also suffers from intrapsychic conflict, but not interpersonal conflict.

I. Introduction

The Internet has an indescribable power to influence, connect, and mobilize the current population. Technological advances are no longer shocking but simply expected. Today's society has different expectations for all types of relationships. Relationships are now different because the tools used to maintain peer-to-peer connections have undergone a vast alteration. The primary focus is on the Internet and, with that, the development of social media. Social media is a web-based technology that transforms how people communicate by enhancing interactive conversations. Andreas Kaplan and Michael Haenlein define social media as "a group of Internet-based applications that build on the ideological and technological foundations of Web 2.0, which allows the creation and exchange of user-generated content."¹ Social Media is a web-based product that is optimized solely by the use of its public. The only way social media can expand depends exclusively on the user and their wants.

Mark Zuckerberg, the founder of the world phenomenon Facebook, said, "More than 175 million people use Facebook. If it were a country, it would be the sixth most populated country in the world." Facebook has the ability to bring people together in a wide variety of relationships. A major factor contributing to the high usability of social media is that it connects people without any boundaries. Social media is basically a template for the user who can then personalize the source's uses and productivity. It is a highly dense and vast resource that is being used on a consistent basis to maintain relationships. People are now accessing social media from mobile devices and laptops making it a commonality in everyday life. Facebook's indescribable popularity is one aspect of this interactive world's power to alter the tangible world.

Social media is continuing to grow exponentially based on the wants of the user. The highest per-and Baby Boomer Consumers Use Fashion Brands' Social Media Carly Rebecca Lucas,2011 iGen Jean M. Twenge,2017-08-22 We ve all been desperate to learn what heavy use of social media does to adolescents Now thanks to Twenge s careful analysis we know It is making them lonely anxious and fragile especially our girls If you are a parent teacher or employer you must read this fascinating book Jonathan Haidt author of The Anxious Generation Born after 1995 they grew up with cell phones had an Instagram page before high school and cannot remember a time before the Internet They are iGen Now here is crucial reading to understand how these children teens and young adults are vastly different from their millennial predecessors and from any other generation With generational divides wider than ever parents educators and employers have an urgent need to understand today s rising generation of teens and young adults Born in the mid 1990s up to the mid 2000s iGen is the first generation to spend their entire adolescence in the age of the smartphone With social media and texting replacing other activities iGen spends less time with their friends in person perhaps contributing to their unprecedented levels of anxiety depression and loneliness But technology is not the only thing that makes iGen distinct from every generation before them they are also different in how they spend their time how they behave and in their attitudes toward religion sexuality and politics They socialize in completely new ways reject once sacred social taboos and want different things from their lives and careers More than previous generations they are obsessed with safety focused on tolerance and have no patience for inequality As this new group of young people grows into adulthood we all need to understand them friends and family need to look out for them businesses must figure out how to recruit them and sell to them colleges and universities must know how to educate and guide them And members of iGen also need to understand themselves as they communicate with their elders and explain their views to their older peers Because where iGen goes so goes our nation and the world As seen in Time USA TODAY The Atlantic The Wall Street Journal and on CBS This Morning BBC PBS CNN and NPR Post, Like, Retweet Tyler Glover, Wheeling Jesuit University, 2013-05-29 Who better to give a comprehensive guide on all things social media than Generation Y Wheeling Jesuit University students give insight on topics ranging from cyberbullying and incriminating photos to online relationships and scam prevention Post Like Retweet offers valuable knowledge and true life examples from humorous mishaps to life altering events Generation Y Entrepreneurs and Social Media Platforms Andrew Josef Reinhart, 2017 Factors Influencing Effective Relationship Marketing by Smartphone Brands Through Social Media Amongst Generation Y Students, 2019 Relationship marketing Social media Smartphones Generation Y students
