

Jazz Styles

"Jazz" is a broad genre that includes many different styles. The activities in this pack will familiarize students, historically and aurally, with the styles listed below. Present the information from the talking points that follow that best matches your students' previous experiences and the focus of your lesson.

Ragtime

Ragtime is a piano-based jazz style that developed in the early 1900s and was popular for about 20 years. Ragtime has a two-beat rhythm that's played in the left hand of the piano while the right hand plays "ragged rhythms" in the melody. Ragtime music was written down rather than improvised. The city of St. Louis is associated with the development of the ragtime style and some ragtime players include Scott Joplin, Ferdinand "Jelly Roll" Morton, and James P. Johnson.

Blues

The blues grew out of field hollers, work songs, and spirituals. It was originally a vocal style of jazz that expressed the challenges of a difficult life. Flated third, fifth, and seventh scale degrees give blues its "blue" feeling. The 12-bar blues contains 3 four-measure phrases. The lyrics of the first two phrases usually state a problem and the third phrase resolves it in some manner. The singing style includes scooped and bent notes and the tempo is usually slow and expressive. A lot of the improvisation that is done in today's jazz is based on the 12-bar blues formula. Memphis Blues, written by W.C. Handy in 1912, was one of the first blues pieces to be published. Bessie Smith was a famous blues singer who was popular in the 1930s.

Boogie Woogie

Boogie Woogie is a piano style based on the blues but resembling ragtime. The style appeared about 1918 and was popular through the early 1940s. A repeated figure is played by the left hand on the piano while the right hand plays exciting, driving melodies. The left hand plays a walking bass line that usually consists of eight pitches per measure, so boogie woogie is sometimes called "eight to the bar."

Dixieland

This early style of jazz grew out of the marching brass bands of New Orleans near the turn of the twentieth century. The Africans brought their own rhythmic and improvisatory style to the European instruments they learned to play, and soon, smaller bands and combos were playing the style we now refer to as Dixieland. Trumpets, cornets, trombones, and drums were common, with saxophones, clarinets, and even banjos being added later. Louis Armstrong, King Oliver, and Sidney Bechet all are famous names in the Dixieland style. The first recordings of Dixieland music were performed by The Original Dixieland Jazz Band in the early 1920s.

Swing

Swing style began in the 1930s and surged to the forefront in popularity. The swing feel moved away from the stiffer rhythms used in early jazz forms and beats 2 and 4 were accented. Swing bands (which were called Big Bands) grew in size to include eight brasses (four trumpets, four trombones), five woodwinds, and a four-player rhythm section. Most big band in the swing era included a singer. Some of the most famous big band leaders are Count Basie, Duke Ellington, Benny Goodman, and Glenn Miller.

Bebop

Bebop was a very innovative style of jazz that appeared in the 1940s. Fast and furious, it contains complex melodies and improvisatory sections. The radical, new sound of bebop was shocking, and quite controversial, to many people.
