The Graphic Canon of Crime & Mystery Vol 2 Russ Kick, 2022-01-11 The latest volume in Russ Kick's New York Times best selling series retells classic crime fiction in full color visual comix splendor Easily the most ambitious and successfully realized literary project in recent memory NPR A treasure trove for literary comics fans WIRED Here are Teddy Goldenberg's dense murky treatment of Dashiell Hammett's The Road Home often considered the first hardboiled detective story ever published Shawn Cheng renders the first serial killer story the so called fairy tale Bluebeard by Charles Perrault Landis Blair reimagines The Trial as a choose your own adventure story that you cannot win and Ted Rall retells an O Henry story about a petty criminal who just can't get arrested Plus 28 other contributors using a wide range of illustrative styles As with previous volumes in the Graphic Canon series the illustrations run the full gamut of media and techniques and artistic interpretations range from verbatim literalism to metaphorical extensions to surrealism and abstraction The common theme tracing the origins and standout texts of the morbid and mysterious unites these multifarious partners in crime

Canon Fanfiction Christine Schott, 2023-01-30 Several scholarly fields investigate the reuse of source texts most relevantly adaptation studies and fanfiction studies The limitation of these two fields is that adaptation studies focuses narrowly on retelling usually in the form of film adaptations but is not as well equipped to treat other uses of source material like prequels sequels and spinoffs On the other hand fanfiction studies has the broad reach adaptation studies lacks but is generally interested in underground production rather than material that goes through the official publication process and thus enters the literary canon This book sits in the gap between these fields discussing published novels and their contribution to the scholarly engagement with their pre and early modern source material as well as applying that creative framework to the teaching of literature in the college classroom
