

Basil Bernstein (1972)

- Language is linked to developing understanding and thinking
- There are two language codes:
 - the restricted code
 - the elaborated code

The restricted code

Shorthand speech, short, simple sentences. Has an 'assumed' element to it. Meanings are implicit. Much depends on gesture and expression.

The elaborated code

Detailed, explanatory, illustrative, analytical. Meanings are explicit.

Basil Bernstein On Restricted And Elaborated Codes:

Elaborated and Restricted Codes: Their Social Origins and Some Consequences Basil Bernstein, 1967 Basil Bernstein's Theory of Restricted and Elaborated Codes Véronique Ruelle, 1985 Academic Language in Second Language Learning Christian J. Faltis, M. Beatriz Arias, 2013-01-22 This volume examines the Soviet system of science and higher education its emergence exportation and survival beyond the political system It explores contemporary crises in science and education post communism as part of a series of upheavals throughout the 20th century influenced by broader political social and cultural changes

Language Proficiency in Native and Non-native Speakers Jan H. Hulstijn, 2015-02-15 This book written for both seasoned and novice researchers presents a theory of what is called Basic and Higher Language Cognition BLC and HLC a theory aimed at making some fundamental issues concerning first and second language learning and bilingualism more empirical The first part of the book provides background for and explication of the theory as well as an agenda for future research while the second part reports on selected studies of language proficiency in native speakers as well as non native speakers and studies of the relationship between literacy in a first and second language Conceptual and methodological problems in measuring language proficiency in research on second language acquisition and bilingualism are also discussed Further the notion of levels of language proficiency as rendered by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages CEFR is critically examined suggesting ways of empirically investigating a number of questions that the CEFR raises but is not capable of answering

Class and Social Background Discrimination in the Modern Workplace Angelo Capuano, 2025-07-15 This book exposes how inequalities based on class and social background arise from employment practices in the digital age It considers instances where social media is used in recruitment to infiltrate private lives and hide job advertisements based on locality where algorithms assess socio economic data to filter candidates where human interviewers are replaced by artificial intelligence with design that disadvantages users of classed language and where already vulnerable groups become victims of digitalisation and remote work The author examines whether these practices create risks of discrimination based on certain protected attributes including social origin in international labour law and laws in Australia and South Africa social condition and family status in laws within Canada and others The book proposes essential law reform and improvements to workplace policy
