

Shell Darina Grease R 2

Shell Darina Grease R 2, based on an inorganic non-soap thickener and a specially selected base oil, will provide satisfactory lubrication beyond the temperature limitations of lithium based greases.

The base oil component in Shell Darina Grease R 2 is a high quality, solvent refined, high viscosity mineral oil with excellent oxidation and evaporation resistance. Oxidation stability is also improved by the addition of a special high temperature oxidation inhibitor.

Applications

Recommended for use in bearings operating in the temperature range 150°C to 250°C.

Shell Darina Grease R 2 gives good service in many applications where improved stability of grease lubrication would otherwise be required.

The special high viscosity base oil in Shell Darina Grease R 2 makes it particularly suitable for low grease lubrication of heavily loaded slow speed bearings.

Very useful: Shell Darina Grease R 2 may be used at temperatures as high as 250°C, but only so long as the lubrication point is suitably cooled.

Operating Temperature

A grease lubricant at fairly high temperature operates in the form of a grease (stable soap thickener) it can maintain high temperature strength and grease structure, thereby reducing the oxidation and evaporation processes. The special program, the selection criterion in Shell Darina Grease R 2 is then primarily bearing lubrication, it provides the comprehensive heat resistance stability of the base oil and helps to extend beyond the usual industrial working temperature.

Sealing

Shell Darina Grease R 2 does not melt but does thicken greases and tends to considerably thicken oily materials with increasing temperatures. In bearings operating at high temperatures it resists softening and helps to form protective good sealing and continuous lubrication under all the possible conditions.

Re-lubrication

Grease film tends to gradually grow and lubrication is especially good with bearing operating under normally identical conditions.

Complete re-lubrication is not necessary but there is considerable benefit to be derived from the more frequently suggested percentage of fresh grease and temperature.

Re-lubrication is likely to be required significantly for slow speed shaft conditions.

Re-lubrication should be carried out at short intervals and intervals, where necessary, in the light of service conditions.

Sealing (Sealing)

Normally, bearing housings should be designed to allow for complete greasing during the installation. Accordingly, the bearing should be protected for periods involving non-removable replacement of the grease charge.
