Implementing the Stakeholder based Goal-Question-Metric (GQM) Measurement Model for Software Projects Dr. Prashanth Harish Southekal,2014-06-25 Software projects today are often characterized by poor quality schedule overruns and high costs One of the approaches to address the poor success rate is to track the project progress with a stakeholder driven measurement model that is objective and validated theoretically and empirically In this backdrop based on the Goal Question Metric GQM model this book proposes a generic and objective measurement model for a software project with eight key measures based on the value propositions of the stakeholders The measurement model is validated i theoretically with measurement theory criteria and ii empirically with case studies and a global survey representing IT industry practitioners

Early Software Reliability Prediction Ajeet Kumar Pandey,Neeraj Kumar Goyal,2013-07-12 The development of software system with acceptable level of reliability and quality within available time frame and budget becomes a challenging objective This objective could be achieved to some extent through early prediction of number of faults present in the software which reduces the cost of development as it provides an opportunity to make early corrections during development process The book presents an early software reliability prediction model that will help to grow the reliability of the software systems by monitoring it in each development phase i e from requirement phase to testing phase Different approaches are discussed in this book to tackle this challenging issue An important approach presented in this book is a model to classify the modules into two categories a fault prone and b not fault prone The methods presented in this book for assessing expected number of faults present in the software assessing expected number of faults present at the end of each phase and classification of software modules in fault prone or no fault prone category are easy to understand develop and use for any practitioner The practitioners are expected to gain more information about their development process and product reliability which can help to optimize the resources used
