educated people of this world and all those who are involved directly or indirectly with the Education of different groups Although efforts are required for a drastic change in the Business and Commerce studies in India or in abroad yet it will still take quite some time to get those proposals translated into reality In this context I would like to enunciate that the Capitalism or hoarding of resources at the center point it will not do the society s problems to be resolved in the near future Resources are meant for all not for counted people in the segment of studies or with some Temple Estates so called Gurus and so many types of property hoarders which are becoming gorgeously richer and richer and our poverty stricken people are in dearth of even two loaves of bread a day At one place abundance of lavishness and aristocracy is prevailed and at another there is nothing to be pulled on their life This ingratitude must be worn out from the society of India Now days few people are busy with the hoarding of the cash and kind from all means They don t have any thinking behind it that how the rest of the population will survive even with appropriate needs of the survival That is why the need to know the rudimentary rules and rubrics of law for all as these is necessary Much has been changing in general laws but nothing we find in shape of progress and prosperity The basic tenet and underpinning philosophy of general laws is to protect the interests of the people by saving them from exploitation and harassment on one hand and providing enough leverage and stick of good governance to the Government so as to have conducive art of living culture on the other hand The cordial and congenial relationship can be had only when both the limbs of society have better understanding in the light of the limits of their rights responsibilities and duties As stated ibid they are something serious rather than contextual but everything is fair in LOVE and WAR Here love is for the public of India and war is against the cruel people of society who are behaving like blackcaps of India Most of the Indian professionals are unable to forget work while on a holiday working up to three hours instead of enjoying the free time with family and friends Developments in technology mean that students are always connected and the temptation to check emails and complete any task
