A Report From The Economist Intelligence Unit 2025:

Urban Competitiveness Peter Kresl, Daniele Ietri, 2014-08-27 During the past 25 years the burden of managing economic policy for competitiveness has devolved to cities and to urban regions National governments have increasingly been focused on staving off fiscal collapse Mayors and local administrations have become very creative and active in looking after the state of their local economy and have developed extensive agencies for inter city cooperation and action This book explores this evolving role of cities and urban regions Intelligent and rational policy must be based on an accurate understanding of the situation at hand and of the economic theory that can be utilized in the assessment of the most effective means that can be deployed This book examines the theoretical contributions of economists and geographers and through the analyses of the performance of various cities will give the reader an understanding of the logic behind rational policy formation Evaluation of a city's relative competitiveness is a controversial matter and this book provides a full treatment of the various approaches Finally it examines the experiences with competitiveness of several cities in North America and in Europe Urban Competitiveness Theory and Practice confirms that many cities in trying times do have a mechanism for enhancing their competitiveness and can work to create the sort of economic life the city's residents want

Cyberviolence against Women Sylwia Spurek, 2026-01-27 This title explores the growing phenomenon of cyberviolence against women analyzing its causes manifestations and consequences from a multidisciplinary perspective It aims to fill the gap in existing literature by not only diagnosing the issue but also providing comprehensive legal and policy solutions Unlike other works this book uniquely integrates perspectives from human rights law digital governance gender studies and cybersecurity making it both an academic resource and a practical guide for policymakers and advocates Cyberviolence against women is a pressing global issue merging the long recognized problem of gender based violence with the pervasive reach of digital technology With insights from legal frameworks and expert recommendations it is an essential resource for policymakers academics and advocates committed to tackling online gender based violence

Smaller Cities in a World of Competitiveness Peter Karl Kresl, Daniele Ietri, 2016-04-28 Much recent research in Urban Studies has concentrated on the notion of the global city but discussion has also covered a larger set of mega cities with populations in excess of 10 million This analysis has begged the question of the optimal size for a city is larger always better Smaller Cities explores the advantages and disadvantages of different sized cities trying to determine their place in the global economy and hierarchy How can smaller cities gain or retain their competitiveness in a world of large cities In a globalized world the nation has perhaps been diminished as an economic actor with fiscal shortcomings and political gridlock leaving cities more or less on their own in the task of enhancing their competitiveness and improving the economic lives of their residents This book argues that smaller cities of varying population can be important actors in competitiveness and aims to bring attention to an area often overlooked by researchers In short are Pittsburgh San Diego and Austin less competitive than London and Mumbai This volume will be of interest to students researchers and city professionals who work in urban economy and urban geography

Generative AI in Higher Education: Ethical Governance, Skills, and Employability Emmanuel K Nartey, 2026-04-15 Building upon the foundational principles established in the first volume this second volume of Generative AI in Higher Education advances the debate on AI beyond theoretical frameworks towards concrete institutional practice Where the first volume developed guiding principles for higher education institutions to use GenAI effectively and ethically in teaching and learning this volume introduces original research informed frameworks that redefine employability as an ethical adaptive and human centred practice It presents distinctive models including Skills Dynamics the Justice Responsibility Framework for Human Flourishing and the AI Dialogic Partner frameworks that move decisively from principles to practice The book integrates ethical governance curriculum design and skills formation through actionable models such as the Double ERL Framework Ethical Regulation Literacy and Ethical Reflexive Learning the ERL Justice Framework and the Institutional AI Stewardship Lab IASL model Uniquely combining philosophical depth with policy relevance it bridges global and local perspectives drawing on UNESCO OECD and regional policy frameworks to address the ethical social and regulatory dimensions of AI in higher education The volume includes comprehensive international policy analysis diverse global case studies and practical tools that transform conceptual exploration into implementable guidance Generative AI in Higher Education Ethical Governance Skills and Employability Volume 2 serves as essential reading for university leaders policymakers educators and employers seeking to align AI innovation with justice inclusion and sustainability Its practical frameworks and transparency principles empower institutions to position education not merely as a response to technological change but as a transformative force for human flourishing providing both scholarly contribution and an actionable roadmap for embedding ethical AI in higher education practice

A Research Agenda for European Union Politics José M. Magone, 2026-02-16 In this prescient Research Agenda leading experts explore emerging and future research in EU politics Leading experts in the field analyse current trends in the EU including digitalization and a change of paradigm in external foreign policies

Digital Inclusion in an Unequal World Tim Unwin, 2026-04-07 Why do so many attempts to use digital tech to help the world's poor ultimately end in failure Digital Inclusion in an Unequal World provides a detailed critique of previous theory and practice while also proposing practical and realistic suggestions for good practice This book combines longer thematic chapters by Tim Unwin one of the world's leading thinkers on ICT for development with shorter vignettes from other experts across a range of different practical intellectual and geographical backgrounds The book argues that the global geo politico economic agendas associated with the use of digital tech in development in late capitalism raise pressing issues around instrumentalism individualism and empowerment This context drives short termism and an innovation fetish around current hot topics such as EdTech Blockchain and Artificial Intelligence The world's poorest and most marginalised people are failing to benefit from the use of digital technology whilst the world's Digital Barons continue to accrue profits Unwin emphasises the importance of

crafting a responsibilities agenda that will shift the dial enabling practitioners to avoid common pitfalls and transform good intent into good practices This book is a highly readable guide for the global community of development practitioners government officials and civil society organisations involved in delivering digital tech initiatives Students from the fields of international development computer science electronic engineering geography and economics will also benefit from its expert insights

Cumulative Effect Vladas Leonas,2026-04-09 For years cyber security was the poor relation in many boardrooms treated as inferior to other priorities seen as an irritating cost centre and assumed to be money that could be spent better elsewhere That mindset is rarely the result of a single bad decision It is inertia the cumulative effect of multiple factors and above all a lack of understanding of how dramatically the landscape has changed over the past 25 years This book is written as a practical wake up call for Board Members and CEOs It reframes cyber security as a leadership issue rooted in the inherent insecurities of the internet on which modern organisations are built encouraging leaders to think as if they operate in a high crime area It then shows how to translate that mindset into board level oversight strengthening domain and subdomain controls and certificate management expanding organisational KPIs to include correctly chosen cyber measures such as year on year reduction in IT ecosystem complexity and making explicit decisions about unmanaged devices such as BYOD and home computers The book also introduces a cyber security risk reward lens for business cases reshaping how leaders assess digital transformation agile delivery SaaS sprawl and shadow IT It clarifies shared security responsibility and how to implement and manage it properly then broadens the conversation to supply chain cyber risks and dependencies across all vendors and service providers not just IT It highlights the strategic importance of DNS ownership and management examines the cyber implications of reliance on digital monopolies such as Microsoft or CrowdStrike and makes clear that compliance does not equal security standards and frameworks may help but they do not guarantee real security Finally it tackles modern boardroom pressure points including avoiding FOMO driven decisions assessing AI adoption through a cyber risk lens and planning for post quantum cryptography

Hunger Hotspots Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,WFP, In the current edition of a regular joint bi yearly report the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO and the World Food Programme WFP warn that acute food insecurity is likely to worsen across 13 countries and territories identified as hotspots during the outlook period from June to October 2025 The Sudan Palestine South Sudan Haiti and Mali remain hotspots at the highest concern level while Yemen the Democratic Republic of the Congo and Myanmar are classified as hotspots of very high concern Other hotspots are Afghanistan Burkina Faso Chad Somalia and the Syrian Arab Republic Since the October 2024 edition Afghanistan and the Democratic Republic of the Congo have been elevated to hotspot status Conversely regional clusters in East Africa Ethiopia and Kenya and Southern Africa Lesotho Malawi Mozambique Namibia Zambia and Zimbabwe as well as Niger are no longer classified as hotspots due to improvements in climatic conditions Nigeria and Lebanon are also no longer classified as hotspots due to some improvement in the economic situation and a reduction in the intensity of military operations respectively Although these countries are no longer considered hotspots for the outlook period future economic and conflict related shocks or climatic shifts could lead to their reclassification For the outlook period funding for food and nutrition assistance falls critically short Funding for humanitarian assistance must not be reduced Instead urgent assistance should be scaled up to protect livelihoods and improve food access across all hunger hotspots This report outlines country specific recommendations for urgent emergency responses as well as anticipatory actions to meet existing humanitarian needs and implement short term protective interventions before new crises emerge The report focuses on the most severe and deteriorating acute hunger situations but it does not represent all countries territories experiencing high levels of acute food insecurity British Reports, Translations and Theses British Library. Document Supply Centre, British Library. Lending Division, 1990 Issue for Mar 1981 contains index for Jan Mar 1981 in microfiche form BMJ, 1997 Design for Disaster Recovery David Sanderson, 2026-03-03 At a time of escalating urban disasters and sharply reduced aid budgets humanitarian aid long held in need of reform has no choice but to reset This book argues that humanitarian aid must accomplish this reset by prioritising people's agency and localising responses This book provides lessons learned from leading practitioners working in urban development who dissented from established top down practices to forge better people centred approaches These lessons are compared with the wicked problem of post disaster shelter provision reviewing good approaches that work and some bad ones that don't This book ends by proposing three ways for aid to let go through supporting and trusting people to do the right thing This book ultimately seeks to reinforce that engaging in processes is vital for effective disaster recovery programmes That means putting first those caught up in disaster and supporting local organisations who are best placed to provide the right support It will be crucial reading for anyone working in humanitarian aid especially planners architects engineers and community development practitioners Biblio-flash, 1989 Country Report, 1990 Bibliographic Guide to Business and Economics New York Public Library. Research Libraries, 1977 Cities, Towns & Renewable Energy Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development, 2009 This book includes several case studies chosen to illustrate how enhanced deployment of renewable energy projects can result from local policy regardless of a community's size or location Ulrich's International Periodicals Directory Carolyn Farquhar Ulrich, 1998 Contains essential bibliographic and access information on serials published throughout the world Country Profile, 1986 Extrait de Le monde vu d'Europe, 1989 Serials in the British Library British Library. Bibliographic Services Division, 1998 Global Risk Sean Cleary, Thierry Malleret, 2007-06-05 In today's rapidly changing and increasingly complex business world successful risk management is the key to survival and success Business leaders are increasingly facing different kinds of risk from those traditionally associated with the market project risks competitive risks and currency risks to a set of new more hazardous threats Businesses in the Twenty First century face a range of global risks These are having an increasingly large impact on the activities of individual firms While ten or fifteen years ago risks flowing from civil unrest climate change terrorism or pandemics had a very limited effect on business this is no longer the case Risks beyond the control of the firm affect businesses more than ever before Risk is the business of business and the fundamental job of executives is to anticipate change and manage it on the basis of an opinion about the future Those who don't take and manage risks properly lose ground and are eventually driven out
