

Longitudinal Data Analysis: Stata Tutorial

Part A: Overview of Stata

I. Reading Data

- `use`
Read data that have been saved in Stata format.
- `infile`
Read raw data and "dictionary" files.
- `import`
Read spreadsheets saved as "CSV" files from a package such as Excel.

II. Do Files

- What is a do file?
A "do" file is a set of commands just as you would type them in one-by-one during a regular Stata session. Any command you use in Stata can be part of a do file. Do files are very useful, particularly when you have many commands to issue repeatedly, or to reproduce results with minor or no changes.

Example: `cd4-readin.do`

* Read in cd4 raw data and create stata data set.

*== Using non-numeric == replace use primary.dta
*File name not yet given, using default read in using path

*== Summary == readinsum(000,15,1)

label var id          "subject ID"
label var time        "years since recruitment"
label var timeyears   "days since recruitment"
label var age         "age (years relative to arbitrary origin)"
label var gender     "gender of participant nested per day"
label var group      "recruitment group (see readme)"
label var treatment  "number of sexual partners"
label var used       "depression score relative to arbitrary origin"

save all , replace

cap noexec

You can edit a do file anywhere then save as a file with the extension ".do". In Windows or Mac, you can type `doedit` in Stata to edit any do files.
