PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES FOR TRANSLATORS AND INTERPRETERS Zhiqing Zhang, Youbin Zhao, Xinjie Wang, 2020-05-26

With the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative and the development of Guangdong Hong Kong Macau Greater Bay Area the demand for translators and interpreters continues to grow in China The breakthrough in artificial intelligence which has contributed to an enormous improvement in the quality of machine translation means challenges and opportunities for translators and interpreters as well as studies of translation and interpreting Studies of translation and interpreting have been further expanded and diversified in the era of globalized communications The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world s languages and cultures By focusing on the connection between the two various researches have been conducted in all forms of communication between languages including translation interpreting cross cultural communication language teaching and the various specializations involved in such activities This has resulted in The Third International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters co organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University on its Zhuhai campus and South China Business College Guangdong University of Foreign Studies November 16 17 2019 The response to the conference was once more overwhelming which was partly attributed to the previous two conferences held successfully under the same title Apart from five keynote speakers over one hundred and fifty participants came from universities institutions or organizations from mainland China Spain New Zealand as well as Hong Kong and Macao to attend the event contributing over 130 papers in total Among the keynote speakers are internationally renowned scholars in translation studies such as Dr Roberto Valde n professor of English Linguistics at the University of Oviedo Spain and the Chief Editor of Perspective Studies in Translatology Dr Sun Yifeng chair professor of Translation Studies and head of the English Department at the University of Macau Dr Tan Zaixi distinguished professor of Shenzhen University and Chair Professor of Beijing Foreign Studies University and Professor Emeritus of Hong Kong Baptist University After careful evaluation and compilation 90 papers have been selected for this conference proceedings which was summarized into the following four topics Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice Translation and Cross cultural Studies Evaluation of Translation and Interpretation and Studies on the Teaching of Translation By no means is it difficult to find some interesting and thought provoking papers under each topic For example concerning Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice To Translate or not to Translate That is the Question On Metaphor Translation in Chinese Political works by Dong Yu explains that in judging whether or not a Chinese metaphor can be translated into English an indispensable step is to decide whether or not the two cultural connotations can be connected But this can easily be influenced by subjective factors Yu has suggested some ways in which subjective factors could be controlled to some extent so that the translator could be more confident in his or her decision He has also suggested three steps The first step is to assume that the cultural connotation of the Chinese metaphor can be connected with that of its English version For example the metaphor in could be translated as rain or shine The second step is to find out whether or not this translated version is acceptable both linguistically and culturally in English The third step is to consider the systematicity of the metaphor in regard with the context in both the source and target texts This involves a process of recontextualization When it comes to Translation and Cross cultural Studies On Translation of the English Guide interpreter from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication by Fengxia Liua and Xiaoning Bi points out that inbound tourism serves as a window through which foreign tourists get to know China so the interaction between the guide interpreters and foreign tourists are the typical activity of cultural communication Foreign language speaking guides are usually regarded as people to people ambassadors or cultural ambassadors who have played an essential role in the international tourist industry Therefore they argue that it is extremely important for tourist guides to cultivate their cross cultural communication awareness enhance their overall communicative competence observe and distinguish east and west differences with multi dimensional perspective transcend cultural barriers and learn to use translation skills Studies on the Teaching of Translation is another interesting topic that has attracted enormous attention such as Business Translation Teaching from the Perspective of Metaphors by Dandan Li which explores application of conceptual metaphor theory in the translation process of business lexicons business discourse and business English culture so as to provide a new perspective in business English pedagogy Another study entitled Cognitive Studies in Translation by Xin Huang analyzes the cognitive studies of translation interpreting processes over the past three decades with focus on the issues examined the findings reached as well as the recent development She explains that cognitive studies of translation process examine the translation competence on line translation behaviors such as how the eye gazes and how the words are typed and the brain activities when doing translation Special interests are paid to the working memory problem solving the executive function and some linguistic relative factors such as text difficulty Over the past thirty years the interest in the field has been gaining considerable momentum and increasing issues have been involved Finally she concludes that with the advancement of technologies and interdisciplinary approaches the black box the previously unforeseeable cognitive activities of how human process translation can be unfolded Considering the importance of integrating theory with practice the proceedings are therefore compiled in such a way as to be balanced and inclusive in the hope of summarizing current accomplishments as well as providing certain insights for teaching and further research in the field of translation and interpretation studies

China's New Silk Road Carmen Amado Mendes, 2018-10-25 Much is being written about China's new One Belt One Road initiative but much of the writing focuses on China itself on the destinations of the road Europe and the Middle East or on the countries through which the road passes such as Central Asia This book takes a different approach assessing the views of East Asian and other countries on the Belt and Road Initiative both from a transnational and multidisciplinary perspective The book considers international visions and limitations of the New Silk Road as a new paradigm explores economic and trade aspects including infrastructure networks financial mechanisms and the likely impact for other countries and regions and analyses the likely implications for regional and trans regional cooperation and competition Western and Asian regional perspectives on the New Silk Road including from India Pakistan Southeast Asia and Japan are considered throughout the book

China's Regional Relations in Comparative Perspective Steven F. Jackson, 2018-02-06 China's relations with its neighbors have evolved since 1949 and in the 21st century many scholars argue that China's rising power has led it to be increasingly domineering over those smaller countries in Northeast Southeast Central and South Asia The evolution of China's regional relations needs to be examined comprehensively since China counts twenty seven countries as its neighbors large and small While China's official policy toward all of these countries is to treat them as good neighbors and partners some of these relationships have been spectacularly deteriorating while others have been quietly improving over the last two decades Jackson takes a comparative foreign policy approach and compares China's status as a regional hegemon with the United States Russia India Brazil South Africa and Nigeria The result is a broader theory as to why regional powers are sometimes intimidating and at other times accommodating An important contribution to studies on China this book will prove useful to scholars and students in Chinese and Asian foreign policy comparative foreign policy and international relations

The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation Cosima Bruno, Lucas Klein, Chris Song, 2023-10-19 Offering the first systematic overview of modern and contemporary Chinese literature from a translation studies perspective this handbook provides students researchers and teachers with a context in which to read and appreciate the effects of linguistic and cultural transfer in Chinese literary works Translation matters It always has of course but more so when we want to reap the benefits of intercultural communication In many universities Chinese literature in English translation is taught as if it had been written in English As a result students submit what they read to their own cultural expectations they do not read in translation and do not attend to the protocols of knowing engagements and contestations that bind literature and society to each other The Bloomsbury Handbook of Modern Chinese Literature in Translation squarely addresses this pedagogical lack Organised in a tripartite structure around considerations of textual social and large scale spatial and historical circumstances its thirty plus essays each deal with a theme of translation studies as emerged from the translation of one or more Chinese literary works In doing so it offers new tools for reading and appreciating modern and contemporary Chinese literature in the global context of its translation offering in depth studies about eminent Chinese authors and their literary masterpieces in translation The first of its kind this book is essential reading for anyone studying or researching Chinese literature in translation

The Party Leads All Jacques deLisle,Guobin Yang,2022-09-27 Examining the past current and potential future roles of the Communist Party in governing China The Chinese Communist Party and its policies touch nearly every aspect of life in China and dominate some An often quoted current phrase one with roots in the era of Mao Zedong says the Party leads all Under the leadership of Xi Jinping the Party determines much of what is permitted and prohibited in the country's social economic and political activity as well as China's increasingly consequential foreign relations Even so the Communist Party always has faced limits on what it can control and it may encounter new obstacles ahead This book addresses important questions about the current and future roles of the party Has Xi's tenure brought a qualitative increase in the pursuit or achievement of party control How is party rule shaped and exercised by internal party dynamics the party's control over the state society economy foreign affairs government institutions and rules and ideology How serious are the threats to party strength and success posed by Xi's approach to power corruption in the party's ranks a rapidly changing society a fraught international environment or a possibly overly ambitious agenda for party control Leading scholars examine these questions from several disciplinary perspectives each focusing on a key area of the party and its efforts to lead control or influence the world around it This book offers the most comprehensive and up to date assessment of the party's roles in China's economy government civil society legal system military affairs and foreign policy It does so at a critical moment with the full contours of the Xi Jinping era in China becoming more evident and as the CCP reaches its 100th anniversary and nears three quarters of a century in power It will be essential reading for all scholars students and policy makers interested in contemporary China
