Anthropologists and the Rediscovery of America,

1886-1965 John S. Gilkeson,2010-09-20 This book examines the intersection of cultural anthropology and American cultural nationalism from 1886 when Franz Boas left Germany for the United States until 1965 when the National Endowment for the Humanities was established Five chapters trace the development within academic anthropology of the concepts of culture social class national character value and civilization and their dissemination to non anthropologists As Americans came to think of culture anthropologically as a complex whole far broader and more inclusive than Matthew Arnold s the best which has been thought and said so too did they come to see American communities as stratified into social classes distinguished by their subcultures to attribute the making of the American character to socialization rather than birth to locate the distinctiveness of American culture in its unconscious canons of choice and to view American culture and civilization in a global perspective

Society and Politics in India Andre Beteille,2020-12-22

Society and politics are subjects of continuous and animated discussion in contemporary India The essays brought together in this collection were written or published between 1964 and 1990 In this case it was also a period of many changes in the disciplines of social anthropology and sociology as well as in the social and political environment

Rethinking Race and Ethnicity in Research Methods

John H Stanfield II,2016-06-03 This collection of original work demonstrates the new ways in which particular research methodologies are used valued and critiqued in the field of race and ethnic studies Contributing authors discuss the ways in which their personal and professional histories and experiences lead them to select and use particular methodologies over the course of their careers They then provide the intellectual histories strengths and weaknesses of these methods as applied to issues of race and ethnicity and discuss the ethical practical and epistemological issues that have influenced and challenged their methodological principles and applications Through these rigorous self examinations this text presents a dynamic example of how scholars engage both research methodologies and issues of social justice and ethics This volume is a
