Ventilation is the process by which fresh air is provided to occupants and concentrations of potentially harmful pollutants are diluted and removed from a space It is also used to cool a space and as a mechanism to distribute thermally conditioned air for heating and cooling It is a fundamental component of building services design since it plays a major role in the comfort health and productivity of occupants In addition ventilation can contribute significantly to a building s energy load and in some cases can account for 50 per cent or more of total heating or cooling loss To stem energy loss from uncontrolled air change there is growing demand for airtightness combined with demand controlled ventilation and heat recovery

Building Services Design for Energy Efficient Buildings Paul Tymkow, Savvas Tassou, Maria Kolokotroni, Hussam Jouhara, 2020-07-12 The role and influence of building services engineers are undergoing rapid change and are pivotal to achieving low carbon buildings However textbooks in the field have tended to remain fairly traditional with a detailed focus on the technicalities of heating ventilation and air conditioning HVAC systems often with little wider context This book addresses that need by embracing a contemporary understanding of the urgent challenge to address climate change together with practical approaches to energy efficiency and carbon mitigation for mechanical and electrical systems in a concise manner The essential conceptual design issues for planning the principal building services systems that influence energy efficiency are examined in detail These are HVAC and electrical systems In addition the following issues are addressed background issues on climate change whole life performance and design collaboration generic strategies for energy efficient low carbon design health and wellbeing and post occupancy evaluation building ventilation air conditioning and HVAC system selection thermal energy generation and distribution systems low energy approaches for thermal control electrical systems data collection controls and monitoring building thermal load assessment building electric power load assessment space planning and design integration with other disciplines In order to deliver buildings that help mitigate climate change impacts a new perspective is required for building services engineers from the initial conceptual design and throughout the design collaboration with other disciplines This book provides a contemporary introduction and guide to this new approach for students and practitioners alike Building Services Journal ,2002 Technical Note AIVC ,1994 Ventilation and Air Conditioning ,1997 Energy Efficient Building Susan Roaf,Mary Hancock,1992-10-06 The need to design energy efficient buildings arises from a variety of external pressures legislation emissions of greenhouse and ozone depleting gases public awareness of our pollution of this planet among others Experts in their respective fields contribute articles ranging in scope from issues of basic competence to advanced design enabling designers to obtain insight into the entire gamut of the subject and at the same time provide sufficient back up references for individuals to follow up areas of special interest
