

Chapter 1:

1. In what year does Wiesel's memoir begin? How old is Wiesel when the memoir begins?

The memoir begins in 1941, and Elie Wiesel is 12 years old at that time.

2. What does Wiesel mean when he writes "Why did I pray? A strange question. Why did I live? Why did I breathe?" (2).

It seems to point to Wiesel's loss of faith and his existential fight in the middle of holocaust atrocities. Thus, prayer as well as life and breath acquire metaphysical, almost trite connotations in the conditions of unendurable pain.

3. Why was Moshe the Beadle one of the first Jews to be expelled from Sighet?

For instance, Moshe the Beadle, a poor and unknown man, was expelled for being a Jew from a foreign country and of no importance to the society, therefore easy to deport.

4. What kinds of atrocities does Moshe the Beadle describe, when he returns from exile?

Moshe relates a story of how he survived and saw piles of human skeletons, and babies buried alive and how the Jews of his transport were slowly and painfully executed by the Gestapo.

5. Explain some of the reasons why the Jews of Sighet don't believe Moshe's story.

The Jews of Sighet were relatively quiet people dwelling in a town in which they never thought anything like this could occur. This was the reason they felt Moshe the Beadle was not fully in his right mind because of the trauma he underwent. Their emotions prevented them from believing what he said about mass graves and killing. They believed perhaps he was trying to overdo it, that he was delusional since their world was all well-mannered and quite secure. They did not want to comprehend that such horrors were possible for them, thus, they ignored Moshe's strident and dismissed all his warnings, waiting for the life to go on as usual.
