

A vibrant illustration of a prehistoric landscape. In the foreground, three long-necked sauropods (brachiosaurids) are depicted in a river, with their heads and necks raised. The water is a mix of blue and brown, reflecting the sky and the surrounding environment. In the background, there are reddish-brown cliffs and a hazy sky. Several flying reptiles, likely pterosaurs, are shown in flight, some near the water and others higher up. The overall scene is a detailed and colorful representation of a prehistoric world.
