The following chapters are divided into units. Unit One introduces core concepts and methods used in anthropology including culture. In Unit Two students read selections on a range of topics all relating to how people and groups have been defined and understood both within and outside anthropology. The final unit features readings on the institutions and practices that have contributed both to community building and inequality and violence across the world. In Unit II students read selections that address race and ethnicity including historical and contemporary conceptions of race and the highly politicized US Mexico border. Unit III focuses on economic anthropology with readings that discuss women as economic agents and the economic factors and consequences associated with migrants. Unit IV is about political anthropology and includes two readings that criticize some of the stereotypes associated with leadership among Indigenous people. In Unit V the readings distinguish sex as biological for gender as social constructs and examine the reality of gender based violence. The final unit explores the world system and globalization including readings that cover a range of topics from the internet to the globalization of fast food to climate change. Readings in Cultural Anthropology and the Contemporary World is an ideal primary or supplementary resource for courses in cultural anthropology and anthropological theory. Basic Anthropology Units, 1974 The Teaching of Anthropology David Goodman Mandelbaum, 1963 General material non Aboriginal Anthropology Made Simple John Lewis, 1984 Cultural Anthropology Serena Nanda, Richard L.
