Food Australia ,2006 Lipids for Functional Foods and Nutraceuticals F. D. Gunstone,2003-01-15 Functional foods and nutraceuticals have become hot topics with an increasing number of books college courses and meetings devoted to this area of interest Foods can be regarded as functional if they can be satisfactorily demonstrated to contain bio active molecules that reduce the risk of disease or act positively to promote good health The active ingredients and components of functional foods and nutraceuticals often include lipids They are required in their own right and also for the important minor components such as carotenoids tocopherols and sterols which accompany the oils and fats This is the first book to address specifically the use of lipids in functional foods and nutraceuticals and it will be essential reading for those who produce the lipids and those who seek to incorporate them into appropriate food products The first chapter is an overview of the development of functional foods This is followed by chapters devoted to materials which are either lipids or are compounds that are fat soluble and co occur with oils and fats These include carotenoids tocopherols phytosterols n 3 omega 3 oils diacylglycerols structured lipids sesame oil rice bran oil and oils and preparations containing palmitoleic acid γ linolenic acid stearidonic acid or conjugated linoleic acid

Authenticity, sustainability, and independence as a branding strategy for selling fermented functional food and beverage Nika Jere,2021-09-23 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2021 in the subject Business economics Offline Marketing and Online Marketing grade 1 00 course Intercultural Management language English abstract The purpose of this paper is to examine how privately owned European SMEs are using authenticity sustainability and independence as part of their branding strategy for selling fermented functional food and beverage The paper discusses possible promising target groups and gaps in the market by using the Sinus Milieus and Braunegger's models. A literature review of the authenticity, sustainability, and independence concepts is followed by an in-depth analysis of eight SMEs which illustrates how these concepts are being communicated by existent entities. The findings show that start-ups in the fermented food and drink industry tend to use phrases and visual materials that can be categorized in five areas of authenticity while primarily focusing on one to two areas. It was noticed that 75 percent of analysed SMEs use their website to communicate their sustainability principles. Moreover, the examples exhibit the widespread use of glass and recyclable hemp as packaging materials. In addition, green delivery and CO₂ emission offsetting were found to play a significant role in today's sustainable SMEs. In the section on independence, the author hypothesizes the increasing importance of independence in the food and beverage business. Concludingly, the paper aims to assist companies to find their place in the market especially while competing with mainstream brands and large corporations. With the help of this toolset, these privately owned enterprises will be able to spend more time producing healthy desired products while creating significant added value that directly contributes to the EU economy.

Wellness Foods, 2007 Food Constituents and Oral Health M. Wilson, 2009-04-29

Oral diseases can have a significant impact on self-esteem and quality of life. This essential collection reviews the latest research into the effects of food constituents on diseases and conditions of the mouth. Chapters cover diseases caused by oral bacteria, viral and fungal infections of the oral cavity, and dental erosion. The book also examines the effects of specific foods and food components including sugar alcohols, casein phosphopeptides, and antioxidants. The final section explores the technology and development of foods and supplements for oral health and oral healthcare products containing food-derived bioactives. Publisher description: IDF 2nd World Symposium of Dairy Products in Human Health and Nutrition, 2003. The papers discuss and review the science and technology of the nutritional and physiologically functional characteristics of milk and dairy products and their industrial implications. The impact of consumption of dairy products on human health and nutrition at various stages of life, the role for dairy in the functional foods revolution, and the application of new technologies for preparation of novel dairy products is also featured.
