

AP European History	Chapter 14 cornell notes
Chapter and Section	Section Title
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What is the time form 1450 to 1650 known as and how did it lay the foundations for the modern world? • What conflicts were there between spain and portugal • How did england and france set up colonies • How did slavery evolve • What was the Colombian exchange? • What were columbuses motivations for exploration? • 	Notetaking Column <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Before 1450 europeas were relatively marginal players in a centuries old trading system that linked africa asia and europe. Elites prized chinese porcelains and silks while wealthy members of the celestial kingdom(china) wanted ivory and black slaves from africa as well as exotic goods and peacocks from india. African people wanted textiles from india and cowrie shells from the maldives in the indian ocean europeans craved asian silks and spices but they had few desirable goods to offer their trading partners. • Europes search for better access to asian trade led to a new empire in the indian ocean and the eccidental discovery of the western hemisphere. After a few decades european colonies in south and north america would join the worldwides trade utilizing the goods in the americas. Because of this europe dominated trading networks and built political empires of global poportions and the era of globalization began. • Global contacts created new forms of cultural exchange assimilation conversion and resistance. Europe didn't understand other societies and imposed its cultural values on them. New forms of racial prejudice emerged nut so did new openness and curiosity about different ways of life. With the developments of the renaissance and the reformation 1450 to 1650 is known as the age of discovery and laid the foundations for the modern world. • The afroeurasion trade world linked the product amd people of asia africa and europe in the fiteenth century the west was not the dominant player before columbus and th european voyages derived form a desire to share in and control the wealth coming from the indian ocean. • The indian ocean was the center of the afroeurasion trade world its location made it a crossroads for aecchange among china india the middle east africa and europe from the seventh through the forteenth centuries the volume of this read steadily increased declining only durig the years of the balck death. • Most of the indian port cities had some form of autonomous self government mutual self interest had largely stopped violence and attempts to monopolize trade. • The most developed area of this commercial web was in the spourh china sea. • In the fiteenth century the port of malacca became a commercial center for goods awaiting redistribution. • The mongol emperors opened the doors of china ot the west encouraging europeans to trade. • After the mongal empire fell china entered a period of economic expansion most historians agree china had the most advanced

John Locke among others Zagorin brings to light a common if unexpected thread concern for the spiritual welfare of religion itself weighed more in the defense of toleration than did any secular or pragmatic arguments His book which ranges from England through the Netherlands the post 1685 Huguenot Diaspora and the American Colonies also exposes a close connection between toleration and religious freedom A far reaching and incisive discussion of the major writers thinkers and controversies responsible for the emergence of religious tolerance in Western society from the Enlightenment through the United Nations Universal Declaration of Human Rights this original and richly nuanced work constitutes an essential chapter in the intellectual history of the modern world
