INTERNET VOTING FOR PUBLIC OFFICIALS

People have voted by mail for years to elect officers of corporations and other organizations. More recently, they have begun casting these votes via the Internet. A logical next step, many say, is allowing ordinary citizens to vote for public officials via the Internet.

Internet voting has played a role in several recent U.S. presidential elections. The history-making 2000 elections included approximately 250 selected U.S. military personnel stationed overseas. Almost 50% of the votes in the Arizona Democratic Party's March 2000 binding presidential primary were cast via the Internet. In the Alaska Republican Party's January 2000 presidential straw poll, 35 people voted via the Internet. And in 1996, the Reform Party offered its members the option of voting for its presidential candidate by casting their ballots online, by mail, by phone, or in person.

contribute work and attend world class technical presentations based on rigorously refereed submissions live without the need for investing significant travel funds or time out of the office Suffice to say that CISSE received submissions from more than 50 countries for whose researchers this opportunity presented a much more affordable dynamic and well planned event to attend and submit their work to versus a classic on the ground conference The CISSE conference audio room provided superb audio even over low speed internet connections the ability to display PowerPoint presentations and cross platform compatibility the conferencing software runs on Windows Mac and any other operating system that supports Java In addition the conferencing system allowed for an unlimited number of participants which in turn granted CISSE the opportunity to allow all participants to attend all presentations as opposed to limiting the number of available seats for each session The implemented conferencing technology starting with the submission review system and ending with the online conferencing capability allowed CISSE to conduct a very high quality fulfilling event for all participants See www.cissee2005.org sections IETA TENE EIAE
