

BRISTLE BRUSH HANDLING

When painting your miniatures it is important to know that not every part is painted the same. Let's see some examples.

1. When we paint edges or locks of hair it is important to paint with the side of the bristles and not with the tip, as holding the brush in this position will make it easier to apply the paint.

2. To paint plane surfaces, draw the brush in one direction and apply this layers. This way we get a good coat.

3. If we want to make splash marks we have to do them with a hard bristle brush. Wet the brush with the paint and then use a finger to bend the bristles back and release them. This applies the paint in little splashes.

NOTE: The bristles of the brush must be dry.
