The Dark Side of Prosperity Mark Horsley,2016-03-09 This book offers a critical analysis of consumer credit markets and the growth of outstanding debt presenting in depth interview material to explore the phenomenon of mass indebtedness through the life trajectories of self identified debtors struggling with the pressures of owing money A rich and original qualitative study of the close relationship between financial capitalism consumer aspirations social exclusion and the proliferation of personal indebtedness The Dark Side of Prosperity examines questions of social identity subjectivity and consumer motivation in close connection with the socio cultural ideals of an enjoyment society that binds the value of the lives of individuals to the endless acquisition and disposal of pecuniary resources and lifestyle symbols Critically engaging with the work of Giddens Beck and Bauman this volume draws on the thought of contemporary philosophers including Zizek Badiou and Ranci re to consider the possibility that the expansion of outstanding consumer credit despite its many consequences may be integral to the construction of social identity in a radically indeterminate and increasingly divided society A ground breaking work of critical social research this book will appeal to scholars of social theory contemporary philosophy and political and economic sociology as well as those with interests in consumer credit and cultures of indebtedness

When Care Work Goes Global Mary Romero,Valerie Preston,Wenona Giles,2016-02-11 Women who migrate into domestic labour and care work are the single largest female occupational group migrating globally at present Their participation in global migration systems has been acknowledged but remains under theorized Specifically the impacts of women migrating into care work in the receiving as well as the sending societies are profound altering gendered aspects of both societies We know that migration systems link the women who migrate and the households and organizations that employ domestic and care workers but how do these migration systems work and more importantly what are their impacts on the sending as well as the receiving societies How do sending and receiving societies regulate women s migration for care work and how do these labour market exchanges take place How is reproductive labour changed in the receiving society when it is done by women who are subject to multifaceted othering racializing processes A must buy acquisition When Care Work Goes Global will be an extremely valuable addition for course adoption in migration labour and gender courses taught in Sociology Anthropology Geography Women s Studies Area Studies and International Development Studies

Care Justice Nancy R. Hooyman,2024-08-27 This book develops a care justice framework to critique and disrupt current policies and reframe a policy blueprint for elevating a just organization of care for unpaid family caregivers and underpaid home care workers assisting older adults In doing so Hooyman invites readers to envision a society that fully values the essential work of care The book is distinctive in its analysis of the interrelationships among both types of care laborers who often face structural constraints on their decision to care and whose work is devalued and marginalized Their care work affects every member of society but it is generally invisible to others and its economic value is rarely recognized by policymakers How care work is organized and unrewarded typically has the most financial physical and emotional costs for women people of color and immigrants across the life course Inequities for care workers by race immigrant status class and sexual orientation are rooted in systemic racism sexism classism xenophobia and homophobia In this book policy priorities and change strategies are reframed to attain the six core components of a care justice framework which include fundamental structural changes to elevate care work ensure meaningful choice to care and reduce systemic inequities faced by care workers This framework is informed by feminism Black feminism intersectionality and care theory By conceptualizing care justice the author aims to stimulate new discourse and action related to the care of older adults the most important work in society and make the seemingly unattainable attainable This timely book will be salient to anyone committed to diversity equity and inclusion and with an interest in policy gerontology disability studies ethnic studies feminist studies social justice social work and social welfare

Saving the Modern Soul Eva Illouz, 2008-03-04 Saving the Modern Soul explores the impact of therapeutic discourse on our lives on our contemporary notions of identity Eva Illouz examines how self help culture has transformed emotional life how therapy complicates individuals lives even as it claims to dissect their emotional experiences

Why Love Hurts Eva Illouz, 2013-05-06 Few of us have been spared the agonies of intimate relationships They come in many shapes loving a man or a woman who will not commit to us being heartbroken when we re abandoned by a lover engaging in Sisyphean internet searches coming back lonely from bars parties or blind dates feeling bored in a relationship that is so much less than we had envisaged these are only some of the ways in which the search for love is a difficult and often painful experience Despite the widespread and almost collective character of these experiences our culture insists they are the result of faulty or insufficiently mature psyches For many the Freudian idea that the family designs the pattern of an individual s erotic career has been the main explanation for why and how we fail to find or sustain love Psychoanalysis and popular psychology have succeeded spectacularly in convincing us that individuals bear responsibility for the misery of their romantic and erotic lives The purpose of this book is to change our way of thinking about what is wrong in modern relationships The problem is not dysfunctional childhoods or insufficiently self aware psyches but rather the institutional forces shaping how we love The argument of this book is that the modern romantic experience is shaped by a fundamental transformation in the ecology and architecture of romantic choice The samples from which men and women choose a partner the modes of evaluating prospective partners the very importance of choice and autonomy and what people imagine to be the spectrum of their choices all these aspects of choice have transformed the very core of the will how we want a partner the sense of worth bestowed by relationships and the organization of desire This book does to love what Marx did to commodities it shows that it is shaped by social relations and institutions and that it circulates in a marketplace of unequal actors Romantic Relationships in a Time of 'Cold Intimacies' Julia Carter, Lorena Arocha, 2019-10-31 This book addresses the nature of intimacy and relationships in a time of what Eva Illouz characterizes as cold intimacies The contributors to this collection highlight the ambivalence and tensions contained in intimacy by uncovering a nuanced and complex dynamic in which interpersonal relations and the public sphere are mutually constituted A range of topics are explored including the new conditions of choice the abundance of partners class and emotional competence rational decision making and the specific forms of love pain which can emerge from cooled intimacy The chapters also shed light on the limits of this theoretical contribution highlighting the importance of parenting violence poverty and other material constraints that continue to limit and frame individuals romantic choices Overall this volume presents an interpretation of intimacy that is not just cold but includes practices desires and feelings that are safe and dangerous that bring solace or erupt in violence that lead to salvation or condemnation and where virtual encounters and increased internal and crossborder mobility have altered the relationship between intimacy and physical emotional distance Romantic Relationships in a Time of Cold Intimacies will be of interest to scholars and students across a range of disciplines including sociology social work social policy and demography as well as practitioners and policy makers with an interest in couple relationships

The End of Love Eva Illouz, 2019-10-09 Western culture has endlessly represented the ways in which love miraculously erupts in people's lives the mythical moment in which one knows someone is destined for us the feverish waiting for a phone call or an email the thrill that runs our spine at the mere thought of him or her Yet a culture that has so much to say about love is virtually silent on the no less mysterious moments when we avoid falling in love where we fall out of love when the one who kept us awake at night now leaves us indifferent or when we hurry away from those who excited us a few months or even a few hours before In The End of Love Eva Illouz documents the multifarious ways in which relationships end She argues that if modern love was once marked by the freedom to enter sexual and emotional bonds according to one's will and choice contemporary love has now become characterized by practices of non choice the freedom to withdraw from relationships Illouz dubs this process by which relationships fade evaporate dissolve and break down unloving While sociology has classically focused on the formation of social bonds The End of Love makes a powerful case for studying why and how social bonds collapse and dissolve Particularly striking is the role that capitalism plays in practices of non choice and unloving The unmaking of social bonds she argues is connected to contemporary capitalism that is characterized by practices of non commitment and non choice practices that enable the quick withdrawal from a transaction and the quick realignment of prices and the breaking of loyalties Unloving and non choice have in turn a profound impact on society and economics as they explain why people may be having fewer children increasingly living alone and having less sex The End of Love presents a profound and original analysis of the effects of capitalism and consumer culture on personal relationships and of what the dissolution of personal relationships means for capitalism

Emotions as Commodities Eva Illouz, 2017-09-28 Capitalism has made rationality into a pervasive feature of human action and yet far from heralding a loss of emotionality capitalist culture has been accompanied with an unprecedented intensification of emotional life This raises the question how could we have become increasingly rationalized and more intensely emotional Emotions as Commodities offers a simple hypothesis that consumer acts and emotional life have become closely and inseparably intertwined with each other each one defining and enabling the other Commodities facilitate the experience of emotions and so emotions are converted into commodities The contributors of this volume present the co production of emotions and commodities as a new type of commodity that has gone unseen and unanalyzed by theories of consumption emotionality Indeed this innovative book explores how emotionality includes atmospherical or mood producing commodities relation marking commodities and mental commodities all of which the purpose it is to change and improve the self Analysing a variety of modern day situations such as emotional management through music creation of urban sexual atmospheres and emotional transformation through psychotherapy Emotions as Commodities will appeal to scholars postgraduate students and postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as Sociology Cultural Studies Marketing Anthropology and Consumer Studies
