Annual Report India. Ministry of External Affairs,2012

Global security Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Foreign Affairs Committee,2010-03-28 The Foreign Affairs Committee concludes that the UK has an extremely close and valuable relationship with the US in specific areas of co operation for instance in the fields of intelligence and security that the historic trading and cultural links between the two countries are profound and that the two countries share common values in their commitment to freedom democracy and the rule of law However the use of the phrase the special relationship in its historical sense to describe the totality of the ever evolving UK US relationship is potentially misleading and its use should be avoided The report examines key areas of co operation military and defence intelligence security nuclear Other sections cover the FCO s US network under unacceptable financial pressure the British political approach to UK US relations the future of the relationship The Committee believe the UK must continue to position itself closely alongside the US in the future recognising the many mutual benefits which flow from close co operation in particular areas But the UK needs to be less deferential and more willing to say no to the US on those issues where the two countries interests and values diverge
