Whitehead, Miles Groth, 2019-05-20. In Resituating Humanistic Psychology Patrick Whitehead and Miles Groth urge psychologists to return to the aims and goals of psychology as it first emerged. Illustrating how the field has veered from its initial conception, Whitehead and Groth trace its growth from the late 1800s to the humanistic revolution of the 1960s to the current period of social unrest. Whitehead and Groth touch on Wilhelm Wundt's and William James's vision for the field, the lasting changes made to clinical psychology, methods of investigation, and psychology of learning in the 1960s, and the effects of isolation, extreme connectivity, and social politics on psychology today. This book is recommended for scholars and students of psychology, history, and philosophy. Death, Dying and Palliative Care in Children and Young People Alison M.

Rodriguez, 2023-04-07. Death, Dying and Palliative Care in Children and Young People: Perspectives from Health Psychology examines the issues relevant to children and young people living with serious illness and their families by taking a closer look at the literature and knowledge around the processes of care, health, well-being, and development through a health psychology lens. The text introduces readers to the general palliative and holistic care needs of children and young people, along with the nuances of caring relationships. The chapters discuss the vulnerabilities encountered in living with serious illness and facing a shortened life prognosis, being at the end of life, and issues relative to the historical concept of the good death or dying well, grief, and bereavement. The author examines how individual and familial experiences can be multi-layered, which can consequently influence perceptions and behaviours. The text therefore offers a deep exploration of the varied ways in which people draw on different resources to navigate their palliative care lived experiences. The book will be beneficial to the students of, and individuals interested in, psychology and nursing, along with other health and social care courses. It will further be of interest to individuals interested in gaining more understanding of the experiential aspects of death, dying, and palliative care in children and young people from health psychology perspectives. Nelson-Jones' Theory and Practice of Counselling and Psychotherapy Richard Nelson-Jones, 2014-11-10.
